Dear reader,

I am delighted that you have found this job advert! We are a Bible believing Anglican church that is seeking to love Jesus and love one another as we grow to maturity in Christ together. We are a growing church in a town with huge opportunities for reaching and blessing children, young people and families. God has blessed us with a wonderful group of children, and a number of willing and able volunteers, but we are praying for a children/youth and families worker to lead and develop our ministry in this area.

Our aim is to equip parents to bring up their children in the knowledge and love of Jesus, and to reach out to our community with the good news. We are hoping that this role will be instrumental in expanding our ministry in depth and breadth. There is such a lot of potential here, and a wonderful church family to be a part of, so I commend this role to you.

We are seeking an evangelical Christian who is godly, faithful, committed to following Jesus and serving the church. They must love children and young people, and have the gifts and experience to teach the Bible to them in a relevant and exciting way.

If you think that God may be calling you to this role, please do have a look at the job description and accompanying information, and do feel free to get in touch at j.lowries@gmail.com to arrange an informal conversation.

Best wishes in Christ,

Jez Lowries

(priest in charge, Ascension Church)
